„With bloola.sales we achieved 30% increase in turnover in the first year of use because of more efficient and selective allocation of all relevant sales information.“

Do you agree?

- You distribute product information to your salespeople by e-mail or via file server?
- The salespeople do not get every single e-mail and / or save the information locally onto the notebook and do not always use the current status?
- Feedback on the documentation and deals only occurs occasionally or is incomplete?
- The Key Account Manager is not always up to date, gets information about his
- key customer's sporadic what effects that you do not win each offer?

THE SOLUTION

For all of these challenges, we have created an intelligent solution that covers:

- Presenting easy and efficient to the customer
- Providing product information securely, comprehensible and easily
- Avoiding redundant information on notebooks
- Exchanging key account regarded information and ideas under colleagues and partners efficiently, transparently and on point
- Winning offers by optimal customer knowledge and appropriate pricing / performance
